

REGIMENT HELD READY FOR COAST FIELDS OF

DORCHESTER CANINE HERO AND CHILDREN HE SAVED

THREATENED CUNDS AND DOG PALES

CHECK ARMED

Continued From First Page.

armed sailors who are marching on Kings County to get out of the way of the law ordered by Governor Mahan.

Several hundred sailors from the Kings County Marine Corps, who are marching on Kings County to get out of the way of the law ordered by Governor Mahan, were seen today in the streets of Kings County, where they are marching on Kings County to get out of the way of the law ordered by Governor Mahan.

The marchers left their homes in Kings County, where they are marching on Kings County to get out of the way of the law ordered by Governor Mahan, and are marching on Kings County to get out of the way of the law ordered by Governor Mahan.

The marchers left their homes in Kings County, where they are marching on Kings County to get out of the way of the law ordered by Governor Mahan, and are marching on Kings County to get out of the way of the law ordered by Governor Mahan.

Ida Tarbell Sees Gain in Session by Frankness of Nations

By IDA M. TARBELL

(Copyright, 1921, by International News Service)

New York, Aug. 19.—Even if the proposed disarmament conference would succeed in doing so, it is not as much as we are hoping for. The reason is that the conference would not be a success unless it is a success in the eyes of the nations. It is not a success in the eyes of the nations unless it is a success in the eyes of the nations.

The reason is that the conference would not be a success unless it is a success in the eyes of the nations. It is not a success in the eyes of the nations unless it is a success in the eyes of the nations.

Text of Irish Reply to Great Britain

(London, Aug. 26 (By the Associated Press).—The text of the reply of the Dail Eireann to the British Government's peace proposals, made public here today, is as follows:

"The anticipatory judgment I gave in my reply of August 10 has been confirmed. I laid the proposal of your government before the Dail Eireann and by a unanimous vote it was rejected.

"From your letter of August 13 it was clear that the principle we are asked to accept was that the 'geographical propinquity' of Ireland to Great Britain imposed the condition of the subordination of Ireland's rights to Great Britain's strategic interests, as she conceives them, and that the very length and persistence of the efforts made in the past to compel Ireland's acquiescence in a foreign domination imposed the condition of acceptance of that domination now.

"We cannot believe that your government intended to commit itself to the principle of sheer militarism, destructive of international morality and fatal to the world's peace.

"AN END TO LIBERTY"

"If a small nation's right to independence is forfeited when a more powerful neighbor covets its territory for military or other advantages it is supposed to confer, there is an end to liberty. No longer can any small nation claim the right to separate existence. Holland and Denmark can be made subservient to Germany, Belgium to Germany or to France, Portugal to Spain.

"If nations that have been forcibly annexed to an empire lose thereby their right to independence, there can be for them no rebirth to freedom.

"In Ireland's case, to speak of her surrender from a partnership she has not accepted or from an allegiance which she has not undertaken to render is fundamentally false, just as the claim to subordinate her independence to British strategy is fundamentally unjust. To neither can we, as representatives of the nation, lend countenance.

"If our refusal to betray our nation's honor and the trust that has been reposed in us is to be made an issue of war by Great Britain, we deplore it.

"HAVE NOT SOUGHT WAR"

"We are as conscious of our responsibilities to the living as we are mindful of principle or of our obligations to the heroic dead.

"We have not sought war nor do we seek war, but if it were made upon us we must defend ourselves, and shall do so, confident that whether our defense be successful or unsuccessful, no body of representative Irishmen or Irishwomen will ever propose to the nation the surrender of its birthright.

"We long to end the conflict between Great Britain and Ireland. If your government be determined to impose its will upon us by force, and antecedent to negotiations, to insist upon conditions that involve a surrender of our whole national position and make negotiation a mockery, the responsibility for the continuance of the conflict rests upon you.

"On the basis of the broad guiding principle of government by the consent of the governed peace can be secured—a peace that will be just and honorable to all and fruitful of concord and inducing to amity.

"To negotiate since a peace the Dail Eireann is ready to appoint its representatives, and, if your government accepts the principle proposed, to invest them with plenary powers to meet and arrange with you for its application in detail.

"I am, Sir, Faithfully yours,

"RAMON DE VALERA."

Continued From First Page.

Massachusetts today has a State constabulary. It came into being as a result of the law passed by the last Legislature, after the protest of organized labor.

The force now comprises two officers and ten men. Its dual strength will be fifty men. The remainder of the force will be enlisted after September 1. About 1,000 applications have been received.

George A. Parker of Lancaster is the commander, with George B. Burke of Lynn as first lieutenant. Able-bodied officers will be appointed.

The force will be organized on a military basis, the men enlisting for two years. They will be paid $12 a year and "found."

After their enlistment, the men will be given the same training as the Framingham police force, which has been issued as a constabulary badge.

The force will be known as the State Police Force. It will be a mobile force, equipped with motorcycles and capable of being brought into any part of the State.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

Marion Gray, editor of the "Beauty Answer," has been identified as the author of the "Beauty Answer" column in the "Boston Herald." The column has proved to be a success, and Marion Gray has been identified as the author of the "Beauty Answer" column in the "Boston Herald."

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Text of Irish Reply to Great Britain

(London, Aug. 26 (By the Associated Press).—The text of the reply of the Dail Eireann to the British Government's peace proposals, made public here today, is as follows:

"The anticipatory judgment I gave in my reply of August 10 has been confirmed. I laid the proposal of your government before the Dail Eireann and by a unanimous vote it was rejected.

"From your letter of August 13 it was clear that the principle we are asked to accept was that the 'geographical propinquity' of Ireland to Great Britain imposed the condition of the subordination of Ireland's rights to Great Britain's strategic interests, as she conceives them, and that the very length and persistence of the efforts made in the past to compel Ireland's acquiescence in a foreign domination imposed the condition of acceptance of that domination now.

"We cannot believe that your government intended to commit itself to the principle of sheer militarism, destructive of international morality and fatal to the world's peace.

"AN END TO LIBERTY"

"If a small nation's right to independence is forfeited when a more powerful neighbor covets its territory for military or other advantages it is supposed to confer, there is an end to liberty. No longer can any small nation claim the right to separate existence. Holland and Denmark can be made subservient to Germany, Belgium to Germany or to France, Portugal to Spain.

"If nations that have been forcibly annexed to an empire lose thereby their right to independence, there can be for them no rebirth to freedom.

"In Ireland's case, to speak of her surrender from a partnership she has not accepted or from an allegiance which she has not undertaken to render is fundamentally false, just as the claim to subordinate her independence to British strategy is fundamentally unjust. To neither can we, as representatives of the nation, lend countenance.

"If our refusal to betray our nation's honor and the trust that has been reposed in us is to be made an issue of war by Great Britain, we deplore it.

"HAVE NOT SOUGHT WAR"

"We are as conscious of our responsibilities to the living as we are mindful of principle or of our obligations to the heroic dead.

"We have not sought war nor do we seek war, but if it were made upon us we must defend ourselves, and shall do so, confident that whether our defense be successful or unsuccessful, no body of representative Irishmen or Irishwomen will ever propose to the nation the surrender of its birthright.

"We long to end the conflict between Great Britain and Ireland. If your government be determined to impose its will upon us by force, and antecedent to negotiations, to insist upon conditions that involve a surrender of our whole national position and make negotiation a mockery, the responsibility for the continuance of the conflict rests upon you.

"On the basis of the broad guiding principle of government by the consent of the governed peace can be secured—a peace that will be just and honorable to all and fruitful of concord and inducing to amity.

"To negotiate since a peace the Dail Eireann is ready to appoint its representatives, and, if your government accepts the principle proposed, to invest them with plenary powers to meet and arrange with you for its application in detail.

"I am, Sir, Faithfully yours,

"RAMON DE VALERA."

Continued From First Page.

Massachusetts today has a State constabulary. It came into being as a result of the law passed by the last Legislature, after the protest of organized labor.

The force now comprises two officers and ten men. Its dual strength will be fifty men. The remainder of the force will be enlisted after September 1. About 1,000 applications have been received.

George A. Parker of Lancaster is the commander, with George B. Burke of Lynn as first lieutenant. Able-bodied officers will be appointed.

The force will be organized on a military basis, the men enlisting for two years. They will be paid $12 a year and "found."

After their enlistment, the men will be given the same training as the Framingham police force, which has been issued as a constabulary badge.

The force will be known as the State Police Force. It will be a mobile force, equipped with motorcycles and capable of being brought into any part of the State.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

Marion Gray, editor of the "Beauty Answer," has been identified as the author of the "Beauty Answer" column in the "Boston Herald." The column has proved to be a success, and Marion Gray has been identified as the author of the "Beauty Answer" column in the "Boston Herald."

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Text of Irish Reply to Great Britain

(London, Aug. 26 (By the Associated Press).—The text of the reply of the Dail Eireann to the British Government's peace proposals, made public here today, is as follows:

"The anticipatory judgment I gave in my reply of August 10 has been confirmed. I laid the proposal of your government before the Dail Eireann and by a unanimous vote it was rejected.

"From your letter of August 13 it was clear that the principle we are asked to accept was that the 'geographical propinquity' of Ireland to Great Britain imposed the condition of the subordination of Ireland's rights to Great Britain's strategic interests, as she conceives them, and that the very length and persistence of the efforts made in the past to compel Ireland's acquiescence in a foreign domination imposed the condition of acceptance of that domination now.

"We cannot believe that your government intended to commit itself to the principle of sheer militarism, destructive of international morality and fatal to the world's peace.

"AN END TO LIBERTY"

"If a small nation's right to independence is forfeited when a more powerful neighbor covets its territory for military or other advantages it is supposed to confer, there is an end to liberty. No longer can any small nation claim the right to separate existence. Holland and Denmark can be made subservient to Germany, Belgium to Germany or to France, Portugal to Spain.

"If nations that have been forcibly annexed to an empire lose thereby their right to independence, there can be for them no rebirth to freedom.

"In Ireland's case, to speak of her surrender from a partnership she has not accepted or from an allegiance which she has not undertaken to render is fundamentally false, just as the claim to subordinate her independence to British strategy is fundamentally unjust. To neither can we, as representatives of the nation, lend countenance.

"If our refusal to betray our nation's honor and the trust that has been reposed in us is to be made an issue of war by Great Britain, we deplore it.

"HAVE NOT SOUGHT WAR"

"We are as conscious of our responsibilities to the living as we are mindful of principle or of our obligations to the heroic dead.

"We have not sought war nor do we seek war, but if it were made upon us we must defend ourselves, and shall do so, confident that whether our defense be successful or unsuccessful, no body of representative Irishmen or Irishwomen will ever propose to the nation the surrender of its birthright.

"We long to end the conflict between Great Britain and Ireland. If your government be determined to impose its will upon us by force, and antecedent to negotiations, to insist upon conditions that involve a surrender of our whole national position and make negotiation a mockery, the responsibility for the continuance of the conflict rests upon you.

"On the basis of the broad guiding principle of government by the consent of the governed peace can be secured—a peace that will be just and honorable to all and fruitful of concord and inducing to amity.

"To negotiate since a peace the Dail Eireann is ready to appoint its representatives, and, if your government accepts the principle proposed, to invest them with plenary powers to meet and arrange with you for its application in detail.

"I am, Sir, Faithfully yours,

"RAMON DE VALERA."

Continued From First Page.

Massachusetts today has a State constabulary. It came into being as a result of the law passed by the last Legislature, after the protest of organized labor.

The force now comprises two officers and ten men. Its dual strength will be fifty men. The remainder of the force will be enlisted after September 1. About 1,000 applications have been received.

George A. Parker of Lancaster is the commander, with George B. Burke of Lynn as first lieutenant. Able-bodied officers will be appointed.

The force will be organized on a military basis, the men enlisting for two years. They will be paid $12 a year and "found."

After their enlistment, the men will be given the same training as the Framingham police force, which has been issued as a constabulary badge.

The force will be known as the State Police Force. It will be a mobile force, equipped with motorcycles and capable of being brought into any part of the State.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

Marion Gray, editor of the "Beauty Answer," has been identified as the author of the "Beauty Answer" column in the "Boston Herald." The column has proved to be a success, and Marion Gray has been identified as the author of the "Beauty Answer" column in the "Boston Herald."

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to get your copy today.

Don't fail to

WHITE GIRL WEDDED TO ARTIST BY CHINESE MARRIAGE RITUAL

LOYALISTS! Moroccan troops, faithful to the Spanish colors, and awaiting orders at Melilla, Morocco, where insurgent Moorish tribesmen killed thousands of Spaniards. This photo, one of the first published of the insurrection, shows Moroccan outfit prepared to proceed further. (U. & I.)

LOUISE BEAUDET, 67 Market St. Lynn, another 25 winner in the Sea Beauty Contest. All photos must be in by Sept. 1. Address: Fictional Editor, Boston American. Send negative with photo whenever possible. They will be returned if unsuitable.

A-BOATING WE MUST GO! Here are the first photos of the collapsible linen boat used by the German navy on their submarines. This craft was demonstrated by C. K. Fernald at his camp at Pompton Lake, N. J. The boat weighs but 35 pounds complete, is 15 feet long, has a capacity for 2 passengers, 20 separate parts and can be assembled in 10 minutes. Easily carried on auto running board. Can even be along over the shoulder and carried without discomfort. (C.)

HELEN MOLLER (right), who is starting the Puritan suburbanites with her new and during dances. Has started new outdoor school. (Int.)

BY SEWING his sweetheart's photo in the crown, this inventive Wall street chap never has his lid stolen. Why not sew mother-in-law's picture to that Fall coat? What could be safer? (Int.)

PAINTING THE DANCE! England, too, has its Provincetown, where the artist and dilettante dash up good canvas to their heart's content. At Diego, where this photo was snapped, there is a school where not only the art of caricature is taught, but the more skillful art of decorating is inculcated in the minds of the young students. Margaret Morris, the artist, is in charge of this class, which is being taught the rudiments of art. When class is over, the pupils take their dancing lesson. (K. & H.)

MISS C. H. BUCK, 21, youngest woman ever admitted to California bar. A grand-niece of James Monroe, fifth President of U. S. (Int.)

LOVE ME, LOVE MY BALLOONS! These balloons, by the way, form a novel lifebelt for this pretty sea nymph of the Isle of Wight. Try this scheme the next time you go in bathing. Balloons make a weightless belt. (W. W.)

THE KING AND QUEEN of the tennis court have parted. Bill Tilden remains world champion, but Miss. Langdon has been forced to abdicate. Snapped at Wimbledon, Eng. (W. W.)

SATIN and heavily embroidered motor combine to good effect in these charming gowns, the last word in Fall fashions. The knickers are heavily embroidered. (K. & H.)

MRS. DOROTHY GIFFORD denies she gave Hightower, accused of slaying Father Heslin, tip which led to discovery of crime. (Int.)

WARMING UP! Lieut. Matt McGrath, holder of world's record for 50-pound weight and Olympic champ in the hammer throw, is out to set a new mark at the field day of the N. Y. police next month. Matt is a traffic officer. (U. & I.)

MR. AND MRS. CARLOS NUÑEZ (left), San Francisco artists, being married according to Buddhist ritual. Bride has taken up customs of Chinese. (Int.)

THE BRAINY BABY! Ralph V. Sallitt of Peru, Ind., who has been appointed assistant to Chairman Lusher of the U. S. Shipping Board at the age of 30. (W. W.)

NORODY HURT, but carpenters get a job! An ambitious artist conceived the idea of trying to outdistance a racing auto on the Uniontown (Pa.) Speedway, said to be the most powerful wheel in the world, and this photo tells better than words what happened. The plane was traveling a few feet over the auto when the motor stopped, and the 'bus came tumbling down onto the track so fast that the engine of the craft was torn completely from the fuelage and hurled through the 4-inch flooring. Strangely enough, the floor escaped without anything more than a slight jouncing. (Int.)

THE THIMBLE THEATRE

Registered U. S. Patent Office.
New Showing—"The Reformed Poet."
To-morrow—"His Name Ain't Jack."

THEN THE FUN BEGAN

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

THE GENERAL

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

DAILY IN THE BOSTON AMERICAN AND IN COLORS IN THE BOSTON SUNDAY ADVERTISER

By Geo. McManus

POLLY AND HER PLS

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

Enough for Once

JERRY ON THE DB

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

Stick Around, Archibald

ABIE THE AGENT

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

Makes a Lot of Difference in Abie's Bankroll

KRAZY KAT

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

Guess We Won't Have Any Dinner

US BOYS

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

Isn't This Exasperating?

Kabibble Kabaret

Copyright 1934 International Feature Service Inc.—Registered U. S. Patent Office.
DEAR MR. VASIBBLE,
I AM A BIGAMIST, WITH TWELVE WIVES—CAN I GET OUT OF IT BY CLAIMING INSANITY?
YES—AND YOU DON'T EVEN HAVE TO MENTION ABOUT THE OTHER ELEVEN!

By T. E. Powers

RUSSIA IS NO LONGER 'RED' NOR A THREAT

By Joseph Irving France.

United States Senator from Maryland

The following is a letter from Senator France, written in Moscow, disclosing conditions in Russia as he found them on his recent tour, and the recommendations which he intends to press before Congress.

MOSCOW, Aug. 1 (By Mail).—First of all, let me make it clear that I am not a Communist and never have been. Next, that, although I came to Russia primarily to study communism on its native heath I find little of it here to study, for the Russians themselves have abandoned communism's most important principles and have this Spring and Summer moved rapidly toward right, conservative policies. By means of these policies they are working out their own salvation.

Here, then, are my conclusions based on a month of diligent study, aided most generously by some of the best minds in that remarkable group of men in Moscow: Russia is no longer "red."

It is a sad, sad thing to find the Russia is working hard for reconstruction, and in many fields reconstruction is well advanced. The present government is not going to collapse. Russia needs our help, and America, to restore our own foreign trade, needs to help Russia, and that without delay.

Quick Trade Convention

My recommendation to the United States is for the immediate conclusion of a convention under which trade will be encouraged and commissions from each country will proceed overseas to investigate and report back. The result will certainly be diplomatic agreements as well as trade agreements, for no intelligent commission could recommend otherwise.

The Russian commission to this country will come not merely to see what goods we have to sell, but to study our government, our banks, our factories, our offices. In all fields Russia needs advice and is willing to take it.

Our commission to Russia should be like that which Britain sent (and which, by coincidence, I, returning from Russia, met at the Latvian border as the commission was moving into Russia). It should have bankers, manufacturers, transportation men, economists and, of course, State Department representatives. It should study political and economic conditions, trade possibilities—specifically, credit possibilities—and finally should go into the matter of whether to recognize the Russian government, and if so, under what conditions so far as matters of peculiar interest to America are concerned.

Intentionally, I put political recognition as the last step. I think recommendation of this official act will come logically and normally at the end of a few weeks' intelligent examination by a capable commission. But in the meantime it is vital—to us and to Russia alike—that trade starts promptly. Here is what Russia must have without delay in the field of creative equipment alone—that is, not to fill individual needs, but to supply, tools with which to create new wealth:

Locomotives	$120,000,000
Metals, tools and machine.....	50,000,000

Cannery	50,000,000
Electrical goods	17,000,000
Chemicals	13,000,000
Miscellaneous	120,000,000
Total creative goods..	$260,000,000

Credit of $2,000,000,000

These sums represent the very immediate, minimum, imperative needs of Russian industry. I estimate that in the all but immediate future and in other fields Russia will require for the rehabilitation of her railroads and industries and for the general requirements of the people a credit of $2,000,000,000.

Russia, more than any other European country, requires at once an initial working capital. This can be obtained only by a government loan resting on the general credit of the country or by a loan which shall pledge specific territorial concessions.

Immediately after recognition of Russia by the United States or any other great power it would be possible for Russia to issue bonds for a $2,000,000,000 preferential loan, to be financed by bankers. This preferential loan would be comparable to a receiver's certificate, a loan enjoying priority over all pre-

When I entered Russia, favoring immediate aid to that unhappy country, I felt that aid should be international—that is, that England, Germany and France should join America in refinancing Russia.

Curiously enough, the Russians, whom I regard as best qualified to discuss economics, combated this plan, pointing out that if America would have to furnish all the funds anyway, America might properly accept the industrial profit which would attend the sale to Russia. One clearly can only see empty air.

Our plants surely can supply a substantial portion of the goods needed; the question is rather whether our banks and investors could and would supply the credit to Russia on terms which Russia could recently accept.
